Losses mount

With no general spring rains, Medina County appears well on its way to a whopping $10 million agricultural disaster.

Medina County Agricultural Agent Glenn Bragg predicted in late March that the county's loss would hit $10 million unless rain fell by May 1.

Since then, there has been some easing of the drought from rain April 19 and 20, but it was confined mainly to an area north of US 90.

This week, the benefits of that moisture, Bragg says, have just about vanished.

"Our broom corn is still growing a little and hanging on," Bragg said, "but it sure needs some moisture." Only a small portion of the predicted acreage of broom corn was planted because of the dryness. Earlier, surveys indicated most broom corn farmers had anticipated planting larger crops than last year.

"The northwest Rio Medina area got about a half inch of rain Sunday night," Bragg said, "but there was very little elsewhere.

"Our grain sorghum looks bad, and it's not growing. Some of our producers feel it's too late, even if it does rain, and are thinking of plowing it under.

"There are a few fields, however, that look extremely good considering our weather conditions. Such fields are spotty, though," Bragg said.

The county agent estimated that only about 10,000 acres looked at all good, and said that if there is no rain in the next two weeks, this acreage, too, will be lost.

Bragg said only a few grain sorghum fields are making any growth. These, he said, are not uniform as far as stock size, but rain might produce a crop.

"Our grain sorghum is usually headed out by July," Bragg said, "and it looks now, if we get rain, it'll be mid July before it's headed."

The agent noted that Medina County produces an average of 80,000 acres of grain sorghum a year with an average yield of about 2500 pounds per acre.

Based on past market trends, the crop would sell for $1.80 a hundred in a normal year, he said.

On that basis, with farmers not even planting 25 per cent of the crop, the county has lost $900,000.

In addition, Bragg noted, another 25 per cent of the crop that was planted as been lost, bringing the total loss from grain sorghum alone to $1.8 million.

Added to this loss is another $2 million from the small grain failure, and losses to cattlemen who had to feed cattle when range grasses failed to grow.

Loss of the grain sorghum crop, plus broom corn, along with the small grains already gone, and heavy feeding costs to livestock producers could easily cost Medina County $10 million, Bragg said.

Because of the widespread drouth throughout the grain sorghum producing areas of Texas, Bragg expects the price to stay above $2.25 a hundred for any milo that's harvested.

Bragg said the county's ir-

COME AGAIN, COLONEL!

The name Hoyt S. Vandenberg has been in U.S. History books many years now. It rests in Air Force annals beside other great aeronautical heroes such as Mitchell, LeMay, Kelly, Olds and others.

It holds special meaning for Hondo; for General Hoyt S. Vandenberg visited our city in 1953 to speak at a graduating class of young pilots trained by T.A.I.

Among that group was a special young pilot--special to the general that is. He was Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Jr., the son and namesake of the famous general.

Several years have passed and that young pilot now wears the eagles of a full colonel and commands the flying training wing at Randolph AFB, and also serves as Base Commander.

On Thursday, May 20, Col. Vandenberg joined some 16 Hondo businessmen at a luncheon as the guest of honor of the Hondo Chamber of Commerce. He told the gathering that "there has always been a warm spot in my heart for Hondo and the people here. And there always will be."

Describing his days at Hondo, Col. Vandenberg says, "I was the only pilot who ever trained here as a member of three differ-

3 held on drug charge

Hondo police arrested three San Antonio youths Saturday and charged them with possession of dangerous drugs.

Jailed were Louis R. Barrera, Jr., 18, Arnulfo Flores, 17, and Rogelio T. Garza, 19.

Bond was set at $5000 for each, but by Tuesday morning, only Garza had posted bond. He was also charged with possessing a false registration card.

Police Chief Jerry Williamson said the three were stopped for a traffic violation, and a vial of an unknown drug was found in the car.

The drug, believed to be dangerous, has been sent to a laboratory for analysis.

A week earlier, Williamson, along with Sheriff C. J. Hitzfelder, attempted to arrest two Hondo men at the Nogales Bar.

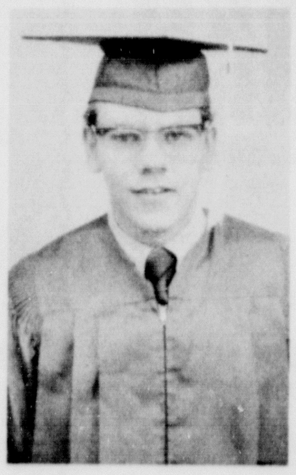

The two, Joe F. (The Beatle) Garza, 22, and Jesus G. Flores, 21, had been under investigation by Hondo police, Williamson said.

When the two officers approached the bar, both men fled. Garza was caught immediately, and Flores was apprehended the following Monday.

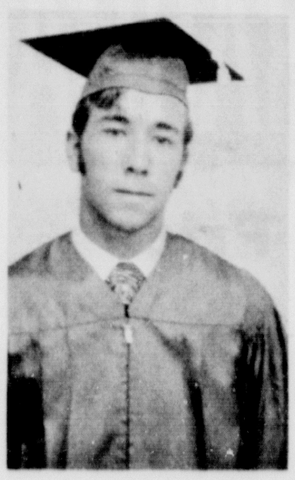

Williamson said approximately three "lids" of marijuana were confiscated.

Bond was set at $5000 for each man which was posted for Flores. Garza was still in jail Tuesday morning.

Hitzfelder said that Garza, when arrested, was free on $10,000 bond following his apprehension earlier on charges of possession and sale of marijuana.

Symposium on respiratory diseases to be held here

The major causes of disability and loss of working time--bronchitis, emphysema, asthma, and tuberculosis --will be the subjects discussed at a Symposium on Respiratory Diseases as announced by Dr. W. S. Duty, Hondo, President of the Board of Directors of the AATRDA.

The symposium is sponsored by the Alamo Area Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association in cooperation with the Brooke Army Medical Center at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, and will be held at the Municipal Building in Hondo at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, June 2.

The public is urged to attend. The program is designed for people interested in the detection, prevention and treatment of respiratory diseases. It is for patients, or friends, and relatives of persons suffering from respiratory ailments, to learn about the latest developments and to ask questions of the medical profession. A special invitation is extended to those interested in smoking and its relationship to respiratory diseases. There will be no admission fee.

Dr. Duty, who is also the City Health Officer of Hondo, will welcome guests and serve as moderator. The physicians are from the Brooke Army Medical Center. Lt. Col. William W. Burgin, Jr., Medical Corps, Department of Medicine, Pulmonary Disease Service, will address the audience on "Emphysema and Chronic Bronchitis--What It Is and What To Do." There will be ample time allotted for questions from the audience.

A short film, "Life and Breath", will be shown that portrays the crippling effects of emphysema.

Pulmonary Function Screening Tests will be provided by technicians from the Pulmonary Function Laboratory of Brooke General Hospital.

MOBILE X-RAY.

For the convenience of the participants, or persons 15 years of age or older, the Mobile X-Ray Unit will be also in Hondo on Wednesday, June 2. The hours for getting x-rayed will be from 12 noon to 4:00 p.m. and then will be from 6 to 7 p.m. and following the Symposium. Mrs. Glenn Bragg and a local committee will assist with the registration at the Unit.

Dr. Duty stated, "Estimates of the number of Americans suffering in some degree from chronic bronchitis, emphysema and similar lung conditions range from two million up to 14 million. Tuberculosis is still with us. Each individual can share in preventing these respiratory ailments for himself and his family if he understands more about them and their treatment." He urged that the public attend the symposium and added that, "This free educational community program is being presented in Hondo through your contributions to the Annual Christmas Seal Campaign."

Letters to the editor

Former H.H.S. student speaks from experience

Dear Mr. Lawrence:

I am a graduate of Hondo High School. I receive the Anvil Herald in Dallas where I am presently in school. After reading the letters of the students of HHS who are "concerned", about their school, I feel a need to reply.

When I was a Senior at HHS, we also were "concerned" about the lack of opportunities for the students and felt that some changes were needed. We voiced our opinions to our teachers. Many of the teachers that year were in favor of some changes. We wanted to do it properly, without trouble, to get results. After discussion with some teachers, students, and parents, we decided to write a letter stating our desires to see some changes made at HHS. A group of us composed a letter of which carbon copies were made. One was given to R. W. Nations, one was given to J. G. Barry, and one was given to the president of the school board, Elmer J. Leinweber. We asked Mr. Nations to read it and then post it on the bulletin board so the students could read it and sign it if they agreed. This was done and over three-fourths of the student body signed it, indicating they agreed. Mr. Nations wanted to keep the list of signatures and should have this in his file.

We tried to find out if we could present it to the school board; but for some reason dates of school board meetings were not made public or the meetings were on dates almost impossible for students to attend. Therefore, we were told it would be presented to the school board if a copy was given to the president of the board.

This was near the end of school and our class graduated. We had hoped the underclassmen would be able to see some changes take place the following fall, since we had tried so hard to go through the "proper channels" without causing trouble or hard feelings between students, faculty, administration, or community.

I just thought the public should know that a large group of students in March of 1968 HAD TRIED in the right way to get some changes in school policies.

Sincerely,
Nancy Been

(Editor's Note: We are grateful for Miss Been sending us a copy of the letter to the school board dated March 25, 1968.)

Dear Sir:

I too would like the answers to some "whys" about the Hondo schools. I don't claim to be a school expert. Neither am I an apple grower, but I can tell a rotten apple from a good one. I am not a livestock expert, but I know a sheep from a goat. Of the several cities and towns I have lived in in Texas and other states, I believe the Hondo schools are the leaders in suppressing initiative and creativity of students. Sure, there are some Hondo exes that have distinguished themselves in college and other worthy stations. However, this type person can overcome many obstacles, even the attendance of Hondo schools.

I wish someone who knows would publish in your paper the reasons that Hondo High School has no Student Council, no National Honor Society, no sports for girls, no track team, no golf team, no student paper, no participation in UIL literary events, not enough band uniforms, no sponsor for the cheer leaders, no teachers at TSTA meetings, no pep squad, and no trained counselor.

Why is the football banquet paid for with tax money? Why is it not an All-Sports Banquet? Is there honor only in football at Hondo High School?

The school administrators always claim there is not enough money to correct some of the deficiencies. Why was there enough money to hire an assistant school superintendent for two years before Mr. Barry's retirement? I guess this cost approximately $25,000 . . . .

. . . . Because I have children in Hondo schools and do not want them hurt by the school administrators in an effort to retaliate against me, I will sign myself.

(Name withheld on request)

Editor's Note: For the record, the band has enough uniforms; Mr. Flory has been here only this school year and it cost the school far below $25,000.

Dear Mr. Lawrence:

Concerning the recent controversy over the Hondo High School system, we would like to voice our opinions. The conditions at Hondo High School are in need of immediate attention. Although we feel book knowledge is important, we also feel experience is the best teacher. Experiences begin with extra-curricular activities. Hondo High has a sound program in football, basketball and baseball. It also has an excellent band program. However, these are very basic activities in any school. Not everyone can participate. What happens to these students?

Since the office of superintendent is changing hands, we feel Mr. Flory should be given a chance to put his ideas into effect.

We cannot see the necessity of signing our names because we are speaking for others as well as ourselves.

Sincerely,
Other concerned
students

Please withhold our names. Thank you.

COW POKES — By Ace Reid

"Worried about the population explosion? Heck no, around here our echos don't even come back!"

Poerner's corner

LBJ Library dedication was an historic event

By John H. Poerner, State Representative, Dist. 49

On Saturday, May 22, Mrs. Poerner and I were privileged to join my colleagues in the Legislature in attending the Lyndon B. Johnson Library dedication. There are many social functions and receptions to attend in Austin and I can assure you this was a highlight. To view President Nixon, Vice-President Agnew, President Johnson, Secretary of the Treasury, John Connally, Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, Carl Albert (not to mention Gregory Peck) is a sight to behold by anyone.

During the function, I could only reflect on my appreciation and gratitude to the people of my district in electing me and giving me this opportunity.

The Security Force was something that I could never have fully appreciated by simply reading about it. The Department of Public Safety and the Austin Police, along with the Texas Rangers, performed a "yeoman's service" and this was only accentuated by the Nation's best - the Secret Service.

Headquartered in the Villa Capri, it was a sense of security to view the Presidential limousine with the appropriate emblem on the door and to look inside and see the mass of telephones and other communication equipment to keep the world's Number One man in contact with matters about to affect everyone in the world.

Each of these functions and exposure to our federal government convince me that our nation is Number 1 and I see no reason for people to fear the decay and fall of our government.

ent classes no one spent so much time in Hondo as I did."

He went on to explain that right after he entered the first class in 1951 he sustained serious injuries in an automobile accident between Castroville and San Antonio.

"I spent more than a year in military hospitals before coming back to Hondo to finish my training and graduate," he said. After he came back he and his wife lived in Castroville and he commuted.

For the luncheon the Colonel brought along his TAI Yearbook and the group spent an enjoyable time recalling names, events and times.

He also told the group that Hondo's airfield facility is an excellent one that should be utilized more and he hopes that some day this can be done by the Air Force.

The idea for the luncheon began at the recent Industrial Barbecue when Fire Chief O. I. Garcia, who heads the Randolph Fire Sub-station at the Hondo Airbase, told Harry Filleman and others how Col. Vandenberg, who arrived at Randolph in January, felt about the town and its people.

So the wheels began turning and the final result was a most enjoyable two hours with this young colonel who has, is, and will continue to make the name Vandenberg a revered one in the United States Air Force.

We say, "Welcome back to Hondo, Colonel--and come again anytime!"

A TIME OF CHANGE

County Judge Jerome Decker speaks to the graduating seniors at Natalia Friday night and some of the words he will say seem extremely appropriate at this time. They will have this theme:

"The time of change faces millions of young Americans at this season each year and approximately 300 Medina County seniors join in that step into the future--graduation.

"They leave high school with high hopes, grand dreams, and in many instances bold, ambitious plans to 'make some changes' in the world about them.

"These are admirable intentions and we know our city, our county, our state, our country, our world could stand some changes. Status quo can no longer cover the sore spots; the same old rut allows the bad apples in the barrel to show; and what was good for my granddaddy no longer gives a valid reason for certain approaches to problem solving in our life of rapid technological and scientific development.

"So there is need for change, but not for change's sake alone.

"We of the older generation, therefore, challenge our young people to propose change, to work for change, to effect change.

"Yet, we issue a further challenge on how they go about seeking these needed changes. Please consider carefully your every action, your every thought before taking a course to bring about change. Protests and demonstrations, if peaceful, give strong impetus to change. But violence and irresponsible disruptive actions only tend to make it more difficult to bring about changes.

"Never be afraid to suggest change; never shirk the duty to work for change; but don't destroy what has taken generations to build to achieve the change you seek.

"It is your tomorrow; make it a brighter one. Don't change it just because you don't like the way your fathers left it -- but change it to make this world a better, a freer, a safer, a more peaceful place for all people.

"And remember, think carefully before you make a change, because those who follow you might not like their world in the shape you left it, no more than you like the one you have discovered."

However, because of hail, a freeze, insects, not enough moisture and other problems, the corn is tasseling at a short height, he said.

North of US 90, the cattle situation picked up a lot after the April rain, Bragg said. Range grasses began to grow and provided some food for livestock.

However, he said, the grass has stopped growing and needs moisture badly.

Four couples united in unique ceremoney

The wedding ceremony that took place at St. John's Catholic Church last Saturday afternoon might not have been a "first" but it was unique to say the least.

Four couples took their religious wedding vows in the same ceremony. They were married by Father Emmet Carolan, all at the same time.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Cara-Bajal, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Herrera, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Tellez and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vosquez, were all married in civil ceremonies some years ago. Recently they decided to have the religious wedding ceremony.

They took some lessons from Fr. Carolan to prepare for their church wedding. The ceremony on Saturday was a regular Catholic marriage ceremony.

Thus it is possible this marked the first time four couples were married in one religious ceremony in Hondo.

After the ceremony everyone went out to celebrate with dinner.

If we could just wrap it all up.

Litter is a complex problem. And solving it calls for understanding and united action.

1. Litter isn't caused by bottles or cans or convenience packaging. Litter is caused by the thoughtless man. The thinking man can stop it.

2. The natural first step is individual action. Let's all be a little more thoughtful. Let's make sure that we, ourselves, are not adding to the litter problem.

3. The thinking man takes active steps to keep his community clean. The tools are at hand.

4. The United States Brewers Association is ready to help you. We're working at the local and national levels to create greater public awareness. To attack apathy. To help Keep America Beautiful.

5. If we tackle this problem together we can soon have it all wrapped up. Write us today and we'll help your community develop a campaign against litter.

Parents Know the Drug Threat

The child you save may be your own

By Jerry Williamson
Hondo
Chief of Police

Today's Subject: Barbiturates — Depressants

Barbiturates, unlike Marijuana, Heroin and Hallucinogens, are legitimate drugs. However, although they can be and are prescribed legally by physicians, they can be extremely dangerous when misused because normally used they depress the central nervous system . . . the brain and spinal column. In this category are:

SECONAL, SECOBARBITAL: these are red capsules and referred to by drug misusers as "Red Devils" — NEMBUTAL, PENTOBARBITAL: these are yellow in color and in capsule form also. Slang term is "Yellow Jackets" — TUINAL, AMOWITH SECO-BARBITAL: red and blue (half & half) and called "Rainbows" on the street market — AMYTAL, AMOBARBITAL: all blue capsules, called "Blue Heavens" by abusers.

These are all dangerous prescription drugs usually prescribed as sleeping pills. They are the most commonly found barbiturates on the illegal "street market". BARBITURATES ARE HIGHLY ADDICTIVE. Physical addiction or, as it is called, "physically hooked" users will:

Require increased doses regularly because the body builds a tolerance to these drugs.
Be depressed, drowsy and demonstrate marked slurred speech.
Become psychologically dependent, or mentally "hooked".
Suffer withdrawal pains if dose is not available and can experience nervousness, tremors, convulsions, delusions, hallucinations and delirium.

"Intoxication" on barbiturates can range from lethargy to deep coma, depending on how much is taken. The trouble is, after taking too much the misuser doesn't remember how much he has taken and often takes more and more until a coma results. In addition to these dangerous possibilities, drug users often drink alcoholic beverages in addition to taking drugs, at the same time they are "on" drugs. It has been proved that barbiturates, when combined with alcohol, can be deadly! Intended or accidental death can result. More people commit suicide with barbiturates than with guns!

It is best to keep well in mind the fact that some barbiturates are obtained by youth from home medicine chests, but the vast majority are obtained from "street markets." Most barbiturates are made legally in the U.S.A., sold legally to Mexican and other foreign firms, and reappear back in the U.S.A. on the illegal "street market" within 6 months. They cost about 25c each and are usually packaged in foil wrappers containing 4 to 6 for a dollar.

It is of some comfort to know that stimulants and barbiturates are regulated by the Food and Drug Administration under the drug abuse control amendments of 1965. These provide for a strict accounting of supplies of the drug by the manufacturer, distributor, and seller, and restrict the user to five refills of the prescription, at the discretion of his doctor. Therefore, these drugs can be had legally only through a physician. Illicit manufacturing and dispensing of barbiturates can bring fines of $1,000 to $10,000 and prison sentences of 1 to 3 years. Those convicted of selling the drugs to persons under 21 can receive up to $15,000 fines and 5 to 6 years in jail.

How to handle tell-tale signs of drug abuse in a child will be discussed in another article. Right now we are going over the facts so that we all have firmly in mind the nature of the "enemy" we are facing. Watch for next week's letter", in this newspaper. I am sure you will find it informative and enlightening.

Rodeo association members remember Nancy Ann Groff

Members of the Southwest Texas State University Rodeo Association are remembering the late Miss Nancy Groff of Hondo in a most tangible way --through a scholarship that will pay tribute to her throughout the years to come.

Before her tragic passing in a traffic accident last November, Nancy worked extremely hard as a member of the Association and for the sport in general. The scholarship is the students' way of trying to perpetuate Nancy's interest and her memory.

By early May the scholarship fund at Southwest Texas State University had reached more than $1500, and the proceeds of the annual NIRA Rodeo held each spring were added to that.

Students named the annual event the Nancy Groff Memorial Rodeo and invited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Groff of Hondo as special guests, and he presented awards to the high point winners. The family also was presented a buckle.

At that event Mr. and Mrs. Groff announced they were giving a Nancy Groff Memorial Trophy as a permanent award at the annual college rodeo. It will go to the high point girl each year and her name will be engraved on it.

Recipient of the first Nancy Groff scholarship will be selected for September of this year with the selection being made to choose an "all around girl".

At the recent rodeo the program carried an In Memorial for Nancy which elequently expressed the sentiments of the students: "Nancy Ann Groff . . . loved the sport of rodeo and all it stands for. She worked tirelessly for the rodeo association and is greatly missed by her fellow members. For this reason, we the S. W. T. Rodeo Association, proudly dedicate our 1971 NIRA Rodeo to the memory of Nancy."

This week

That's all she wrote

by Edna McDade

"As cold waters to a thirsty soul" is what news from the "far country" of Hondo would be to me now. No Anvil Herald since May 6th, although I'm sure that at least two issues must be gathering moss somewhere along the road.

Courtesy of BILL BERGER and personally addressed (I recognized the sig) John received a Vol. I, No. 1 Houston Post copy of the TEXAS STAR, new Sunday rotogravure magazine which 26 Texas dailies now circulate to their subscribers.

I read the supplement with extra pride because I recognized Bill's "fine hand" in the fulfilment of a dream that probably began with the Anvil Herald's SUN and SOIL which I remember well.

May the Texas Star continue to "shine bright" not only deep-in-the-heart-of Texas readers but wherever other readers are lucky enough to be supplied with the new magazine.

Birds which flew south for the winter are now winging their way to Lancaster. I do believe I've recognized two mocking birds from Texas and understood them to warble "Anything you can do, we can do better!" For an encore, they did "Eyes of Texas".

Bird glee clubs are in fine voice and I make an appreciative listening audience. Daily, I spread a fringe of crumbs (fringe?) along the edge of the patio and become a bird watcher.

Among the guests are brown thrashers; red robins that come "bob-bob-bobbing along"; downy-bosomed doves billing and two-ing; crested cedar waxwings; red-winged blackbirds; brown-headed cowbirds which approach in hayfoot-strawfoot formation and all 57 varieties of sparrows. Overhead, purple martins fly reconnaissance and depopulate mosquitoes.

The bird book does not list cornbread crumbs among the foods some of these birds favor but John says he has been training them to more gourmet tastes.

One afternoon before I headed thisaway, I became grandstand audience for a baseball nine (plus) in pre-summer workout on the MEYER SCHOOL "diamond".

Doing a super coaching job was GAYLON BOUBEL, a San Antonio fireman who lives on 24th Street, just across the way. He stopped the practice session long enough for the boys to give me their names-- and-- what did I do? Lost the list somewhere before I reached home that day.

So, I can't identify the future Babe Ruths and Baseball Hall of Fame candidates (who knows?) although I had intended to introduce them to you. I think they are in our "Major League" groups and I do know that they consider their coach "the best there is". They told me so themselves.

The visible spectrum of magnificent colors which the area's flowers produced when I arrived is now giving way to green in endless shades.

Trees are becoming huge green umbrellas, except for the metallic grandeur that the red maples offer. I consult a forestry reference but I can't identify the limitless assortment. I do know that black wainuts, chestnuts, and wild cherries are in the making.

Last year's cornfield which I saw in stubble is now rye grass almost waist high. I'm told this will be plowed under to make way for a later corn crop although the information came from someone who was not "too sure" about this. Neither am I but I did learn, from the county agent, that the much publicized corn blight is not "anticipated as a threat so far". Good thing, because Lancaster County farmers plant some 150,000 acres with an average 90 to 100 bushel yield per acre. About 1/3 of this goes into corn silage, the remainder into grain for livestock and poultry.

And, for areas where the blight does hit, the "ill wind that blows no good" might apply since a rural magazine from the corn belt reports that this will mean summer jobs for at least 200,000 students. They will be needed to detassel N-cytoplasm plants which produce seed corn resistant to the blight.

A headline says "It costs at least $23,380 to raise a child" and then adds "It's like knowing where the needle is but trying to fight your way out of the haystack".

Be of good cheer and courage, parents!

First place smiles

You can tell from the smiles on these four faces that they have won something, and the trophies they are holding indicates a slam in bowling. These bowlers took first place in the Tuesday Nite Bowling League at Bob's Bowling Lanes. They are (in no order) Carmen Martinez, Gloria Gallardo, Sophia Lopez, Carmen Sandoval. Nina Rodriguez is not pictured.

RADIO STATION KRME

The Frio County Centennial Celebration was a great success. The parade, parties, fiddler's contest, parties, burying of the time capsule, parties, dances, parties, the Forever Frio presentation, and the parties made Centennial Week a once-in-a-hundred-year occasion. Many of the county's men, as well as myself, parted with our beards with a little support from our wives.

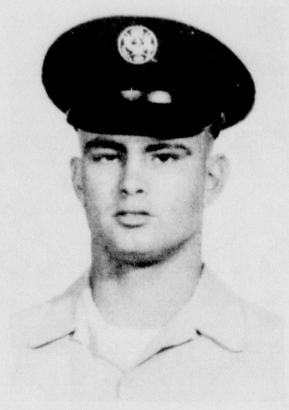

One of these days we are going to get Ronnie Mason and the Mason Knights settle down once and for all on our program log. For the last two weeks we have been unable to get the program on the air because the band has been booked for appearances in Austin and Luling plus other dances scheduled for this month in Pearsall, Bandera, and others. We are going to try again this Saturday afternoon, but the show will be heard (cross your fingers) from 1:30 to 2:00 p. m.

Radio Medina has a new voice on the airwaves Sundays. He is 18-year-old Daniel Robert King. Dan is my younger brother who is working for KRME to pick up a little extra money this summer. Starting next fall he will be attending the University of Texas, where he has been accepted. Dan is part of our rescheduling of personnel.

Speaking of school, many of our area high schools, universities, and colleges are releasing graduates into this 9 to 5 world (Good Luck).

I would like to thank the many wonderful people who have sent cards, presents, and telephone calls congratulating me on my two-year stint in the institution of higher learning in Uvalde. It gave me a warm feeling inside.

Until next time, be good, stay sweet, and I'll meet you back on the radio again for another day of western entertainment.
